Requirements for Easements

August 2015
EPB 385

Under The Environmental Management and Protection Act, 2010, easements are required for sewage works that could adversely affect any land other than the land where the works are to be constructed or situated. Examples are treated effluent discharges via ditches or overland flow, etc. In these cases, the project proponent is required to register an easement against the title to the affected land with the Information Services Corporation of Saskatchewan and advise WSA of this registration.

For more information on the requirements for easements associated with sewage works, please contact the Environmental and Municipal Management Services Division of WSA at 306-787-0726.
